Friday 15th October 2010 NEW DATE

“Teachers will now have to get into a frame of mind where they themselves will be able to do some curriculum development. It is an exciting prospect.”

Dr John Dunford, General Secretary Association of School and College Leaders, Teachers TV, June 2010

Many teachers and school leaders were very excited about their plans for a renewed and revitalised primary curriculum in the light of the Rose Review. The national context in which we are working may have changed, but that excitement and enthusiasm should be just as strong as ever. This lively and engaging event will energise participants, helping them to clarify a vision for the curriculum that they need for their children in their schools. So come and join us at the zoo...

What is your vision for the curriculum in your school?

At this conference, we want to share with you how your curriculum could look in practice in order to invigorate teaching, engage with children and ignite a love of learning.

The day will be practical and active, with plenty of opportunities to experience the curriculum in action. You will be encouraged to network with colleagues from other schools to share your excitement, discuss your vision and devise strategies for moving forward with curriculum development in your own setting.

Twycross Zoo is the truly unforgettable location for our workshops, demonstrating how a single stimulus can inspire exciting links across the curriculum. In every session, we will explore key skills that can enhance good learning and share with you the principles behind our activities so that you will be able to transfer what you experience on the day, to other settings.

Workshops will be led by experienced advisers who are specialists in their fields and all content will be closely linked to the National Curriculum 2000. The workshops are available in EARLY (Y1/2), MIDDLE (Y3/4) and LATER (Y5/6) stages and the day will be structured to enable you to follow the progression in one subject(s) across the three stages, or visit three workshops at the same stage. Alternatively, you can mix and match the workshops to suit your own needs. The choice is yours.

Please select a first and second choice for Workshops A, B and C.
